It includes:

At the start of every subject, you will be given information on the subject and a delivery schedule, including the units of competency and the assessment activities to be completed. The outcomes of the assessment are C for Competent or NYC for Not Yet Competent. Those assessed as NYC (Not Yet Competent) can request a reassessment as soon as the results are published in the Student Portal. There are fees for the reassessment of $150 per unit.

During the course, your trainer will maintain your individual assessment records in both hard and soft copies. Any plagiarism on assessments of $250 is penalized for reassessment per unit.

19 RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

If you believe you already have the skills and knowledge required to demonstrate competency, you can request RPL. It does not matter whether you acquired your skills and knowledge through informal learning, work experience and/or life experiences.

To request RPL, you will need to:

- Collect and complete the Application for Recognition of Prior Learning form
- Complete an RPL interview with a Trainer
- Confirm you are eligible for RPL, then go ahead with your evidence collection

- Organise the evidence you have for each unit of competency
- Present your evidence and the list of evidence for assessment.

The Assessor may ask you to undergo a challenge test. You will be provided with a written report on the outcomes of the assessment of your application for RPL, which you will be required to counter sign. This report will be filed in your personal file.

Where RPL is granted before the issue of a student visa via Australian Harbour International College, the net course duration (as reduced by RPL) will be indicated on the eCoE issued for that student.

Where RPL is granted after the student visa is granted, the resulting change of course duration will be notified via PRISMS.

A fee of $250 per unit does apply to complete the RPL assessment application. If a student is granted RPL, there may be a reduction in the total course fee. This will be explained in a letter to the student.

Your attendance is recorded in our student management system, and Intervention Officer checks this regularly.

A medical certificate from a registered general practitioner is required if you are sick, and this will be recorded on the attendance records. You must provide a copy of their medical certificate upon return to class and keep the original for future records.

If your attendance falls below 80% for the study period, Intervention Officer will notify you via email then if attendance drops lower, he/she will send you warning letters and ask you to come and see the Intervention Officer or the Principal. 25 COURSE PROGRESS

AHIC has adopted the National Code Standard 8 Course Progress and attendance policy. This means students will be made aware of our policy and procedures for recording and monitoring course progress and attendance, and then those students who are at risk of failing to meet course progress and attendance requirements will be proactively notified and counselled. As a registered CRICOS provider, we are obliged to report students under section 19 of the ESOS Act, who have breached the course progress requirements.

Study period

For childcare and Hospitality courses, the study period for course progress is 1 term of 10 weeks. But for the remaining courses, the study period for course progress is 1 term of 9 weeks.

Two consecutive study periods for reporting purposes

Reporting a student for unsatisfactory course progress occurs only when the student has been identified as not making satisfactory course progress in 2 (two) consecutive study periods.

Where the course is a short course (less than 6 months), then the study period is the length of the course.

AHIC Unsatisfactory course progress is a failure in 50% of the subjects over the study period.

Students receive a Subject Outline that indicates the timetable for the subject, the assessment tasks, and the due dates for assessment tasks to be submitted. Trainers monitor academic performance for every term, and students who are having difficulty will be offered a range of support options, and students can request for an additional tutorial.

When a student does not meet the course requirements for two consecutive terms, they may be reported to the DEPARTMENT OF HOME AND AFFAIRS via PRISMS as required under section 19 of the ESOS Act 2000, and this may result in their visa being cancelled.

Here are the steps we follow for course progress.

Notification to the student of results and the intervention strategy

Intervention strategy for a subject

The trainer will provide the results to the students as well as students can access their results through the Student portal.

Where a student falls below the minimum satisfactory requirements for the subject, a letter outlining the AHIC intervention strategy will be sent, and it may include any or all of the support strategies.

- Offer to re-submit written work
- Offer to re-do a major assessment
- Offer of academic counselling and a meeting with the Trainer or Academic Manager
- Offer to repeat the term where it may impact with COE's duration

27 COMPASSIONATE OR COMPELLING CIRCUMSTANCES

Compassionate or compelling circumstances are generally those beyond the control of the student and which have an impact upon the student's course progress or wellbeing. These could include, but are not limited to:

- serious illness or injury, where a medical certificate states that the student was unable to attend classes;

In these circumstances, the PEO may use professional judgment to assess each case on its individual merits. When determining whether compassionate or compelling circumstances exist, AHIC will request documentary evidence to support the claim where available and will keep copies of these documents in the student's file. We will make notes of the decision in the student file.

28 MAINTAINING YOUR STUDY LOAD

AHIC is required to monitor the enrolment load of students to ensure that at all times, you are in a position to complete the course within the duration specified on your visa. 32 REFUND POLICY

In the unlikely event of default by Australian Harbour International College, the provisions of the ESOS Act 2000 and the ESOS Regulations 2001 cover such situations.

In the circumstances of provider default where the student chooses the refund option, Australian Harbour International College must refund the student all course fees. Refunds will be paid to students within 14 days of the default day.

Situations where a provider default may occur include:

- The course does not start on the agreed starting date, which is notified in the Offer Letter
- The course stops being provided after it starts and before it is completed
- The course is not provided fully to the student because the College has a sanction imposed by a government regulator

However, if the student agrees to accept an alternative (replacement) course or part of a course, to be provided to the student at the College's expense, then the College is relieved of its liability to make the payment. The student must advise the College in writing whether they agree to the alternative arrangement.

AHIC's refund policy applies to both commencing and re-enrolling students. It is set out in the Handbook and below. All requests for a refund must be submitted on the appropriate refund application form and shown the official documentary evidence of the grounds for the request.

You are entitled to access the Complaints and Appeals process should you be dissatisfied about the course or College decisions. This information is available in the International Student Handbook and the website. You should also be aware that this agreement, and the availability of complaints and appeals processes, do not remove the right of the student to take action under Australia's consumer protection law (<http://consumerlaw.gov.au/>).

We sincerely hope not, but from time to time you may be unhappy with the services we provide or want to appeal a decision we have made. We take your complaints and appeals seriously and will ensure in assessing them that we look at the causes and action that we can take to ensure it does not happen again/reduce the likelihood of it happening again.

This means that we will review each complaint or appeal in an objective and consistent manner and give everyone the opportunity to present their point of view.

Our internal complaints and appeals process can be accessed at no cost.

We do encourage you to firstly seek to address the issue informally by discussing it with the person involved.

42 ESOS FRAMEWORK

The Australian Government wants overseas students in Australia to have a safe, enjoyable, and rewarding place to study. Australia's laws promote quality education and consumer protection for overseas students. These laws are known as the ESOS framework, and they include the Education Services for Overseas (ESOS) Act 2000 and the National Code 2019.

42.1 Protection for overseas students

As an overseas student on a student visa, you must study with an education provider and in a course that can be found on the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS) at <http://cricos.education.gov.au>. CRICOS registration guarantees that the course and the education provider at which you study meet the high standards necessary for overseas students. Please check carefully that the details of your course – including its location – match the information on CRICOS.

42.2 Your rights

The ESOS framework protects your rights, including:

- Your right to receive, before enrolling, current and accurate information about the courses, fees, modes of study, and other information from your provider and your provider's agent.
- If you are under 18, to ensure your safety, you will be granted a visa only if there are arrangements in place for your accommodation, support, and welfare.
- Your right to sign a written agreement with your provider before or as you pay fees, setting out the services to be provided, fees payable, and information about refunds of course money. You should keep a copy of your written agreement.
- Your right to get the education you paid for. The ESOS Framework includes consumer

- Protection that will allow you to receive a refund or to be placed in another course if your provider is unable to teach your course.

The ESOS framework sets out the standards Australian education providers offering education services to overseas students must obey. These standards cover a range of information you have a right to know and services that must be offered, including:

- Orientation and access to support services to help you study and adjust to life in Australia
- Who the contact officer or officers is for overseas students
- If you can apply for course credit
- When your enrolment can be deferred, suspended or cancelled
- What your provider's requirements are for satisfactory progress in the courses you study, and what support is available if you are not progressing well
- If attendance will be monitored for your course, and
- A complaints and appeals process.

One of the standards does not allow another education provider to enrol a student who wants to transfer to another course but has not completed six months of the final course of study you plan to undertake in Australia. If you want to transfer beforehand you need your provider's permission.

If you are under 18, to ensure your safety, you will be granted a visa only if there are arrangements in place for your accommodation, support, and welfare.

42.3 Your responsibilities

As an overseas student on a student visa, you have responsibilities to:

- Satisfy your student visa conditions
- Maintain your overseas student health cover (OSHC) for the period of your stay
- Meet the terms of the written agreement with your education provider
- Inform your provider if you change your address
- Maintain satisfactory course progress
